I am developing a game for mobile. I need someone to develop it for Android. I want to make an interactive game similar to Plarium games. I have the programming already done, but I need you to translate the game to Android on my behalf. I can provide the graphics and all other files. I need this in the shortest time frame. We are looking for someone who can voice act in the game that we are developing (either English or Spanish). The voice over work will be for an Educational game that will be released on both Amazon (Kindle) and Apple store. The voice over project is a story about a chimp who has to find the missing letters and numbers to complete the word "VACANT". We have a main character who will be voiced. We are open to ideas for how you would like the voice overs to sound. ...with our logo and we need a thesaurus/dictionary site/platform for word searchers like google,...you provide our website/game design and we give you: - customer support with game - trainings/support with game - advanced search/word searchers - feedback/suggestions about what we can improve Experience with this is very necessary This is a long term project for us. The goal is to send unique sounds to each of the 10 linked computers. A few actions are required (included in the file), but the real goal is the music: each computer must hear a different song. These computers are linked together. If the action is successful, the computer will beep, and the related sound will be saved to /sdcard/music (CSV or TXT files). The file is a simple.jpg image that is 200 pixels wide, can't be cut, and sent with the application (via USB). The distance between the computers is also 300 pixel. I am looking for a developer that will create a customized 2D game engine, which can run on mobile and tablet devices based on "Zynq-7000" SoC (Zynq-7020 or Zynq-7025). The game engine will be used to develop games for application specific chips, such as 5Gpp Modems. I'm looking to create an audio visualizer for a homemade rca speaker system that currently drives 2 of our TVs. I don't know what I'm doing with my current sound software and I'm hoping some can help me out

Wingspan is a card game about the freedom of flight and being able to reach any part of the world. This first expansion adds the birds of Europe and therefore the Eurasian continent to the base game. In Wingspan, players take the roles of birds in a world where flight is common and important to society. In this world, each bird has four unique abilities that you can use to travel from place to place. Flying to the mainland, players engage in resource management using cards and trade with other birds to become stronger and acquire more cards and resources. Key Features: - New birds: the new birds of Europe feature more classic bird abilities along with a new set of card abilities. - Rounds: in this expansion the birds can interact with each other by trading, flying to a new location, and distributing among themselves resources that they control. Birds now have round abilities. Some birds allow you to move your card "rounds" so that you can get the most cards from playing. The more cards you get, the more it's worth to play again. So being at a location can be a very risky gamble. - New actions: The new birds in Europe have basic actions like: Feed, Communicate, Build, etc. Several birds allow you to create a new card or card copy and distribute among other birds at a specific location. - Two Worlds: this expansion introduces the Eurasian mainland. The new cards work on both the Eastern and Western side of the continent as well as the Northern Island. And finally, you'll notice that the cards now have a white background so they're easier to read from a distance. Key Game Elements: - Resource management: In this expansion, the food that you can harvest throughout the world determines the ability of your birds. For example, a bird that can fly from island to island to find food produces more fish which can be traded for more cards. - Full deck: this is the second expansion for Wingspan. You'll find that most cards in Europe are available to play in the full game. This is because they're designed to be able to cover multiple spaces (like flying from Europe to the Northern Island). - Dealing with the new birds of Europe: the new birds are different from the original style of a simple deck of cards. Each of the new birds has a unique ability. - Food: In this expansion, the new food not only allows you to add more cards to
