on a Cassandra database. CQL seems to be very friendly for creating these kinds of queries. I have never used it before, but it seems easy. I have defined the schema of my tables and columns, and I know how to define an Index, but I can't figure out how to define a Data Type. I have been using the AttributeDefinition.java class in order to specify the type, but I am not able to use it for Data Types. Any help is appreciated. A: If you want CQL-2.0 I suggest you take a look at the new Helper class org.apache.cassandra.db.ColumnFamilyDescriptor. It has the same API as org.apache.cassandra.db.ColumnTypeDescriptor plus the following properties definesTypeAt a type
